Speaks in the Senate--- The South Anxious to do its Part---Good Effects of Democratic

WASHINGTON, April 3—SÉNATE.— The Senate considered the resolution relative to the removals and appointments of officers of the Senate ments of officers of the Senate, but without final action went over, and the Senate resumed the consideration of the army bill. Williams spoke in favor of the bill, williams spoke in favor of the bill, especially of the section forbidding the use of the army at the polls. Alluding to the presence of Confederate soldiers in Congress he wished the people of the North had been animated by some wise policy as their Southern brethren, and sent their gallant soldiers to be their representatives because if questions growing out of the war had been left for solution to brave men who had left for solution to brave men who had fought the war, the return of prosperity and approach of reconciliation would have been hastened. Jones, of Florida, followed in support of the bill. The south having been restored to its place in the Union its people were anxious to co-operate with other sections of the country in restoring complete peace and prosperity everywhere. Its representatives being on terms of equality with representatives of other States they have from time to time manifested their interest in the affairs of the nation and after a long night of estrangement, they have come into the light and enjoyment of the rights conferred by the constitution. Referring to the use of the army at the polls, Jones said: He had seen soldiers march and countermarched over his little state. He stated as a fact, that a company of troops was marched from Fort Barraneas to Moravia in 77 to attend an election, and after the election he saw an officer in his own town remain with the State officers until the returns from the voting polls were canvassed. There was no necessity for troops at the polls. There was no indication whatever of trouble and none was apprehended; and when there was so much interest everywhere concerning the electoral vote of Florida, troops were present to sustain the villany of the returning board, and which defrauded the people of their President. Mr. Jones spoke of the changed condition of the South under Democratic rule. There was now more thrift; the public credit had been restored, and there was more enterprise than under the domination of the Republicans. All the people had been stimulated in the improvement of their condition, and they had awakened to a new born zeal for public liberty and a determination

Blaine gave notice that he would renew his amendment to the 6th sec-tion. He then read from the testimony before the Teller Committee, taken in South Carolina, that numbers of white men came around the polls firing guns and frightening colored men away.

Mr. Butler, of South Carolina, asked Blaine if it were not true that within the last three days an acquittal had Charleston county, in a case depending on just such evidence as that just read. Mr. Blaine said he believed there had been a dismissal upon a flaw in the indictment, but Butler insisted that it was on the evidence. Blaine declared that the elections in South Carolina had been infere travesties in elections. He also characterized unfavorably the House.—A resolution has been adopted appropriating $3,000 to meet the ex-penses of the Labor Committee, and granting that committee leave to sit

On motion of F. Wood, of New York a resolution was adopted requesting the President to consider the expediency of entering into a convention with France for the negotiation of a treaty which shall secure a more equal interchange of products and manufactures of each The sub-committee of the House committee on appropriations, to whom was referred the recent communication from the Secretary of War, recommending that an appropriation be made dur-ing the present session to meet the bligations of the government to Capt. Eads for services rendered on the jettles of Mississippi, held a meeting to-day and agreed upon a bill authorizing the Secretary of War to make a requisition on the Secretary of the Treasury for such amounts of money as may from time to time be due to Eads, under acts of 1875, and acts amendatory thereof, with a proviso that nothing contained in the act shall be construed as waiving or impairing the right of the United States Government under said acts and amendments, and the further provision that such act shall not be construed as appropriating any money for the payment of the million dollars which becomes due Eads, one-half in ten years, and one-half in twenty years after the completion of the work, as provided in the acts above mentioned. The sub-committee will report their conclusion to the full committee to-morrow, and the measure will be brought before the House as soon as possible.

The House committee on railways and canals to-day appointed a sub-committee, consisting of Messrs. Kimmel, Turner and Ford, to take under immediate consideration the bill introduced by Henkle, providing for a ship canal to connect the Chesapeake and Delaware bays. The committee also discussed the practicability of making provisions for the erection of bridges at Shreveport and Monroe, Louisiana, in compliance with many petitions. The subject was referred to the sub-

The Legislative bill being resumed Robeson addressed the committee. It had been stated, he said, on the Republican side of the House, that they would vote for the repeal of these laws, provided repeal was presented in an inde-pendent section. That the declaration had with or without authority, been perverted to mean that they were willing to vote for the amendment if it were presented as a separate proposition. That was not only a different proposition, but exactly an opposite proposition, because this amendment did nothing more than repeal an exception to a restricting law, and the repealing of an exception to restricting law, so far from repealing the law itself, actually enlarged and increased its scope. He thought it proper to make that remark so that the position on the Republican side might not be misunderstood. He then made a lengthy argument in defence of the Federal election laws and in opposition to the question of State rights, saying in the course of his remarks that the Government of the United States was a government sovereign and supreme, exclusive in its powers wherever those powers acte l. It was a government with power to act directly upon its citizens and to act directly upon their property. Finley, of Ohio, followed in favor of English Races. *

London, April 23.—The Times says: Lorillard had backed Parole for city and suburban handicap prior to his New Market victory. As the result wins something over twenty thousand pounds, general satisfaction at the victory of the plucky American was fully proved by the volleying rounds of cheers which accompanied Parole's return to the enclosure. Another correspondent says: Parole won on his merits without getting anything approaching to advantage at the start or turns in the course.

This morning's Sportsman says: Just previous to the race yesterday for city and suburban handicap, at Epsom Spring Meeting, Eifkin was very much fancied and the dislike to Parole was so general that he declined to take four to one against him. Parole is now the strong favorite at six to four on him for the great Metropolitan handicap, which will be run for to-day at Epsom. In consequence of his win yesterday he has to carry ten pounds extra for the Prince of Wales' stakes. Handicap also to be competed for to-day at Epsom; twelve pounds extra for the race for the Chester Trade can which takes place twelve pounds extra for the race for the Chester Trade cap, which takes place May 7th, at Chester meeting, and 14 pounds extra for the race for the great Cheshire handicap stakes which is to be run for May 8th, at the same meeting. Fred Archer rode Parole yesterday.

Only two horses, Parole and Castlereagh ran in the race for the great Metropolitan stakes at Epsom. Parole won.

EGYPTS INDEPENDENCE,

A Solid Combination of all Classe Against Foreign Administration. LONDON, April 23,-The full text of the papers which passed between the Khedive and the English and French Commissioners and their respective Governments, and the Khedive and the Sultan is now at hand, and a clear view of the Egyptian crisis is obtained. It appears that the position taken at the outset in these dispatches was correct, viz, that neither England nor France separately, nor either of them singly, nor the Sultan alone, nor in conjunc-tion with either England or France or both, would undertake to coerce the Viceroy in his action. No sooner was the purpose of the Khedive generally understood than manifestations of approval came from all parts of the kingdom. A petition in support of the Vice-regal plan for the adjustment of the finances, especially in relation to the floating debt, was presented to the Vice-roy, signed by the great land owners, members of the native Parliament, the Coptic Patriarch, Pashas, Utemas, and the Chief Rabbi. No more thorough Egyptian alliance against foreign inter-ference is imaginable. All this met ference is imaginable. All this met with the approval of the Sultan, not-withstanding the rumors circulated from French and English sources that the Porte would not only be found in opposition, but would probably rescind the new order by which Egypt became an independent Government

More Kind to the Czar.

BERLIN, April 23 .- Letters received here from Cracow, announce that the Moderate Liberal party in Poland, apparently induced by Solovieff's attempt, now adopt a more conciliatory policy toward the Czar. An influential deputation will proceed to St. Peters-burg to congratulate him on his escape.

Horrible Hydrophobia. NEW YORK, April 23.-Thomas Kelley, of Brooklyn, who was bitten by a dog on the 20th of February last was seized with hydrophobia Sunday last and died this morning in great agony.

The Czar More Careful.

LONDON, April 23.—The Berlin cor-respondent of the Standard says Lieut. Dubrovin has been arrested near Nov Carod on suspicion of being one of the members of the revolutionary committee. The assasination of another spy who betrayed the whereabouts of a secret printing office at Topravo is reported. The Czar, who until lately drove out unattended, now has his carriage surrounded by Cossacks.

Trial of Solovieff.

St. Petersburg, April 23.—A high Court of Criminal Justice, under the presidency of the Grand Duke Constanine, brother to the Czar, has alread een appointed for trial of Solovied.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 23.—The Senate has adopted the Assembly resolutions, tendering the hospitality of the State of New York to General Grant on his return home from abroad.

A Call by the Secretary.

WASHINGTON, April 23.-A call was issued to-day by the Secretary of the Treasury for the loan of 1858 five per cents, amounting to $160,000. These bonds are all registered. The holders of these bonds may at any time within ten days exchange them for 4 per cent at par with the interest computed on each class of bonds to the date of exchange. If not exhausted they will be paid at the maturity of the call.

A Lady Runs off from her Husband-The Coachman and His Bride-Talmage trial still going on.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The singular conduct of young Mrs. Hyllested, who yesterday ran off from her husband, ac-companied by her father, her sister and brother, is still the all-absorbing topic of conversation among the people up town. Mrs. Hyliested was married but three weeks, having eloped with her husband from Philadelphia, where her father, Mr. Phillips, is a merchant re-ported to be worth about 8,000,000. To add to the sensation, the young wife to-day departed for Europe in company to-day departed for Europe in company of her relatives. They sailed by the steamer Wisconsin, which left this morning at 6 o'clock. Thus everything was done to prevent the young husband from getting an opportunity to speak to her and induce her to return. The reason of her conduct is a mystery.

THE WORLD'S FAIR IN 1888.

Jackson S. Schultz said this morning that the committee of citizens, which has been considering the project of the world's fair in 1883, in New York, has come to an agreement on a site. "A report," continued Mr. Schultz, "is in process of preparation, and will be com-pleted and made public in a few days, which will describe the site approved by the committee, and explain why it is a desirable one." Mr. Schultz declined to tell exactly where the site in question is, preferring to refer everybody to the forthcoming report. It is said that the committee will report in favor of a ract of 170 acres lying between Long Island and the Southern boulevard, west of Port Morris and east of Harlem bridge. The United States Board of Trade committee have received a number of letters approving the project of the New York world's fair, from prominent men throughout the country.

THE COACHMAN AND HIS BRIDE. Matters between Mr. W. A. Town-send, the wealthy Broadway publisher, of New York, and his newly-made son-in-law and coachman, James Weeks, have been definitely settled. Weeks is to seek some employment that will not only be sufficiently remunerative to enable him to support his wife in comfort, but which will place him in a better social position, and, in the meanwhile, Mrs. Weeks will remain with her father, unless, h ever, she should elect to go with her husband and share his humble lot, in which event she will be allowed to exercise her own discretion.

MR. BRYANT AND HIS DOMESTIC. Mary McCue, a domestic in the employ of Geo. W. Bryant, had him arrested yesterday. She said in court that on Easter morning Mr. Bryant came into the kitchen and abused her. He knocked her down, throttled her at Lyons are now calling upon M. He was held for trial. Mr. Bryant ran for Congress last fall as a coalition candidate, against Levi P. Morton and Benjamin A. Wilis, in the Eleventh district. He came ont ast in the race.

TALMAGE'S TRIAL. The trial of Dr. Talmage was resumed this afternoon. The cross-examina-tion of Talmage was resumed by Dr. Crosby. Witness was examined Crosby. Witness was examined upon a peculiarity of character as testified to by Mrs. Talmage, that of sometimes writing a severe letter to persons, carrying them in his pocket and destroying them. Dr. Crosby cited several sharp letters, which witness wrote to show that this was not one of Talmage's peculiarities. The counsel for Tal-mage objected to the letters. The objection was overruled and the letters admitted. The remainder of the evi-dence related to his connection with the Christian at Work and the Advance. Adjourned.

Burlington Hawkeye.

The Burlington young man who went to Leadville in February to make a fortune, returned home yesterday evening, having made it. He reports the walking from Leadville to Peublo as terrible, but from that point on as far as Larned it improved, and from Larned to Osage City he got along with comparatively little fatigue and nothing to eat; from Osage City to Atchison the walking grew rapidly worse, and the walking grew rapidly worse, and his fatigue increased out of all proportions to his rations, and from Hopkins to Burlington the walking was so beastly that the occasional lifts he was able to beg or steal on freight trains didn't count for anything. He expresses himfelf as highly pleased with Leadville, and thinks of going back a style of his raiment by saying that nobody in Leadville wore any more than one leg to their panticons. to their panticons.

And there is another class who were fortunate enough to list their tax, and who are rarely if ever confronted by these hungry vampires, and nine-tenths of whom never pay a single farthing. Now, the point we make is this: the man who does not list is entitled to the same consideration as the man who lists for the express purpose, as many avow, of not paying. Town Talk. If you want a fair chance at it go to HUSSEY& JORDAN, PROPRIETORS JOHN P. HUSZEY. . . Editor REVOLUTIONARY MOVEMENTS IN BUSSIA,

The under-current of revolution in Russia appears to be stronger and more widespread than the outside world has imagined. At intervals we have heard for some time past of the bold and dangerous movements of what are called the Nibilists, of assassinations, or attempted assassinations, of the chiefs of the Government, of the wholesale deportation of students and others suspected of revolutionary designs to Siberia, and of the uneasiness of the Czar himself. Had these things occurred under the repressive despotism of such an Emperor as the late Nicholas people would have said that they were the inevitable reaction against tyranny, but, under the comparatively liberal government and mild rule of Alexander, we must look for other and deeper causes. These are undoubtedly the growing intelligence of the Russian people, the desire for constitutional government, and the resistance to charges made in the communal land system. There are, doubtless, many visionary theorists and desperate fanat ics among the revolutionists of Russia, and people who think liberty may be established by assassination. There has always been such, and always will be, probably, in any great and exciting national movement. It appears, however, that the so-called and muchthat for the most part they aim at needpress, abhor secret political societies and methods, we should remember that the Russians dare not speak or act openly, even in demanding reforms. And this is not the fault of the Czar so much as the system of Government. The most remarkable feature of the revolutionary movement is that the most cultivated classes, not merely enthusiastic students, but the people of profound lie to tell them so. thought and philosophic ideas are engaged in it, and give it the greatest impulse. It is to be feared that there is a terrible conflict coming on in the great empire of absolutism, and there may be appalling suffering. Still Russia, or gan of a great and powerful denomingany other country in this enlightened tion and has a great mission to fulfill. and progressive age, cannot stand still. Improvement must come either through the Government or in opposition to it. No blockade of despotism can shut out the ideas and aspirations of mankind in Europe, or wherever the printingpress and the telegraph reach."

Perhaps too, (it is barely possible,)they might not have failed to sign the school bill which every one knows did regularly pass both Houses and which was announced by both Speakers as signed and ratified. The Attorney General has published an opinion that they should sign the bill now, and the poor people of the State who look to this bill as a means of educating their little ones. have a right to know why this act is to be suppressed in the authorized publication of the laws. SENATOR HENDERSON.

In another column appears a letter from the excellent gentleman who ably represented Rowan and Davie in the State Senate of 1879. He puts himself on record as to his views in regard to the short form for deeds. The News is pleased to see that Senator Henderson expresses himself in favor of abolishing the cumbersome and senseless forms, civil and criminal, which are a blot upon our legal procedure. On this line the NEWS took position long since and it regrets that the Legislature of 1879 did "retrench and reform" so little in these matters.

He was held for examination, as to the population of the United States in 1880. The aggregate in 1870 was 38, 558,000. All things considered it will probably not be less than 48,000,000 next year, which will give us the largest Mr. Clara Morris, at the Palmer house number of people under one government, speaking a common language, This estimate is based upon an anticipated increase of 25 per cent., the smallest of any decade, except the last, when the war greatly retarded the natural growth of the country and almost checked immigration. The aggregate in 1880 will probably exceed rather than fall below the estimate, as the tide of European emigration is again flowing to our shores and all the conditions for a large natural increase besides have been fulfilled.

On a bright, beauiful morning, the young Queen was waited upon at her palace, at Windsor, by the Duke of Wellington, who had brought from London various papers requiring her signature to make operative. One of them was a sentence of court-martial pronounced against soldier of the line, that sentence that he be shot dead. The Queen looked upon the paper, and then looked upon the wondrous beauties that nature had spread to her view. "What has this man done?" she asked, The duke looked at the paper, and replied, "Ah my royal mistress, that man, I fear, i incorrigible. "But," he added, "think of the influence." "Influence! the Queen cried, her eyes flashing and her bosom heaving with strong emotion. "Let it be ours to wield influence. I will try mercy in this man's case, and I charge you, your Grace, to let me know the result. A good soldier, you said. Oh, I thank you for that! And you may tell him that his good word saved him." Then she took the paper and wrote, with a bold, firm hand, across the dark page, the bright, saving word -"pardoned!" Mr. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—I will most cheerfully add my testimony to the great number you have already received in favor of your great and good medicine. Vegetine, for I do not think enough can be said in its praise, for I was troubled over thirty years with that dreadful disease, Catarrh, and had such bad coughing spells that it would seem as though I never could breathe any more, and VEGETINE has cured me; and i do feel to thank God all the time that there is so good a medicine as VEGETINE, and I also think it one of the best medicines for coughe and weak, sinking feelings at the stomach, and advise everybody to take the Vegetine tis one of the best medicines that ever was.

Our country is getting to be fearfully arming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonom the most insignficant organ. At is season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hur-ry of every day life we are apt to overok the dangers attending it and often and too late that a fever or lung trouble res already set in. Thousands lose meir lives in this way every winter, waile had Boschee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the throat and lungs, Boschee's German Syrup has proved itself to be the greatest disovery of its kind in medicine. ARemedy that has been Rem e

The invincible repagnance felt by almost every one to the smell and flavor of cod Liver Oil, has prevented tens of thousands of the victims of debility. From reaping the benefits of its peculiar healing and nutritive properties. The almost nopeless consumptive, the martyr to Rheumalism, the barely living shadow of men, women and chirrent hat emerge from the clutches of malarial levers, all of these know, or at least their dectors knew, that of all discovered remedies, this Oil is the best, and often the onig one that will build up their wasted bodies, and and restore their shattered nerves, and lar more effective than the Oil by itself is Scoti's Emulsion of it, with the Hypophesphites of Lime and Soda. This is the nnest natural lood and medicine in the orli, and wholly deprived of its disagree-e qualities. Soid by Wm. Simpson, Drug L.

A Swindler Jailed.

We are glad to learn from an ex-change that Paul Byron, alias John Volney Ryan, alias J. M. C. Ryan, who cut such a swell here several years ago representing himself as an Insurance agent, and from the cut of his jib, and the amount of jewelry and fine that he wore, one would have thought that "he was somebody else," is now reflecting upon the uncertainty of hu-man affairs in Savannah jail. We presume many of our citizens remember the gentleman, he has been swindling several banks in Tennessee, and has been nabbe by officers for trying to do likewise in Sayannah.

Judge Strong in Court.

Weelip the following from an article in the Goldsboro Messenger, on the Superior Court of Wayne, now in session: Mr. Bryan was followed by Judge G. V. Strong in one of his ablest efforts, indicating that wearing the judicial ermine, if anything, has but greater improved his recognized capacity as a criminal lawyer. This was Judge Strong's first appearance in a capita case since he resumed practice, vet he spoke with unequalted power, and an occasional burst of eloquence, contending and arguing that his client had acted purely in self-defence of himself, and interporsing his remarks with plenty of law port the proposition so ably laid down by him. He did not ask for pity, but or hu nanity and for justice, and in his concusion besought the jury to acquit the defendant, and hoped they would discard all prejudice and extraneous tostimony in deciding his fate. Judge undertaker. Marble yard cor. Morgan Strong concluded his speech.

Messrs, M. B. Andrews & Co. Few busines houses in this city de serve as pleasant a word at the hands of the business editor of this paper as the one mentioned above. The house is one of the oldest and most reliable in the city, having been established since 1847 by Mr. Hardin, one of the present proprietors. R. B. Andrews has been connected with the business since 1856. He started as a clerk and by close attention to his business and untiring zeal in his employer's interest he grad-nally worked himself up to an equal partnership with Mr. Hardin, which occurred immediately after the war, when the firm's name was changed to R. B. Andrews & Co. The business of the house was large and profitable, and in 1868 Mr. Andrews had made a sufiicient sum to effect a purchase of the building they now occury, which at that time was only two stories. In 1868 Mr. Seymour Whiting, one of the most popular and reliable young men of the city, was employed as a clerk and was so valuable that it was a fact often remarked upon by the citizens. The affairs of the house were well managed and success still attended it. In May, 1874, Mr. Andrews added to the building three extra stories and when com-pleted it was the tallest building in the city, which altitude it still maintains city, which altitude it still maintains. Mr. Whiting's services were appreciated, in fact, as Mr. Andrews said, "he was indispensable, so we had to make him a partner. Of the house as it now stands this much may be safely said. It is the largest clothing establishment in this State, carries a larger line of goods and has a larger patronage. The store room is more extensive and better arranged than any between Baltimore and New Orleans. Mr. Andrews is a self-made man and has achieved success by his untiring energy, reliable dealing and close application to business. His efforts have been most ably New Postage Stamps.

It is announced that arrangements have just been completed with the American bank note company for the manufacture of the new stamps for partially unpaid matter sent thro the mail. Under existing regulations, the amount due is simply marked on the package at the office from which it is sent, and many times the postmaster fails to collect it. When the stamps are completed the delivery office will be compelled to affix stamps representing the deficit, and will settle for them in his quarterly accounts. The stamps will be of the same size as the regular stamps, but, instead of the vignette in the centre, there will be the numbers 2, 3, 5, these being the denominations to be issued. On the circle surrounding the figure will be engraved on the up-per are, "unpaid postage," and on the lower, "one cent," or the other amount correspondent with the figure. The department is now having designs pre-pared for the international postal card authorized by a recent act of Congress o comply with the terms of the Pari Postal Card Convention.

Warning Against Concealed Weapo Tennessee thus far is ahead in the war against concealed weapons. It was fondly imagined that New Orleans was not to be distanced in zeal in this direc-tion since the acquittal of a young man for taking the life of a ruffin, who as-saulted him at night, and his after in-dictment for carrying a concealed weapon. But if the Memphis Herald is to be credited an instance is turnis to be credited, an instance is turnshed which far surpasses that in the vindication of outraged law. According to the Herald a man was found dead at Fifteen-Mile Bayou, near St. Francis river. A jury held an injust and brought in a yerdict in accordance with the facts, after which the justice, noticing a pistol on the body of the dead man, again called the jury together. Forty years or so ago Lea & Perrins began the manufacture of Worcestershire Sauce. It quickly became a favorite Sauce on account of its peculiar piquancy, and when Mr. Sour, the cel-ebrated chef-de-cuisine of the Reform Club, gave it his approval, its appear ance on the Tables of II the other club of London followed as a matter of course. Then its use was began in the cuisine o the leading Hotels in all parts of the world. Wandering Englishmen carried it about with them in all kinds of climates, and found to their delight that long voyages on shipboard did not im-pair, in the least, its flavor or pungency. It was literally 'presented to the Queen' in 1846, and on the strength of this was admitted without question to every house in Loudon. This honor did not cause the opinion of epicures to change in the least, as they had already dicov-ered its good qualities. One of them said in 1843, "that it had destroyed the force of the adage," appetite makes the best sauce, and his friends thought the remark just as well as witty. CELEBRATED

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

)AIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on presure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general tre costive, sometimes alternative with ax, the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss o' memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease. Lut cases have occurred ination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

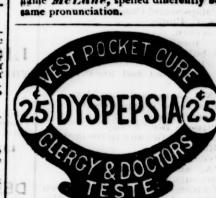

AGUE AND FEVER

DR. C. McLane's LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL. For all bilious derangements, and simple purgative, they are un-BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.
